Subject: My Spicer connection.

Hi Cathy,

Yes my grandmother married a Sprinkle, but he was her second husband and they had no children together. My family gets confusing, but it works out in the descendant charts.

Here is a descendant chart showing the line of Clara Spicer, you probably have more on Uncle Roy Wainwright than I do, because LeeRoy was going to send me a copy of his data, two years ago. I have a lot for my direct line, but some are missing, because I don't live close enough to keep up with new additions. Here's what I have. You will notice that my Daddy, Levi Albert Sprinkle is included twice, he and Mama were divorced and then he married her sister Lillie Ruth. (I told you we were confusing.) Grandma married Joseph Sprinkle as her second husband, he was my Daddy's older brother. Daddy's youngest brother was married to Mama's sister Vivian Elsie. Mama's brother was married to Daddy's niece. My first husband is married to my cousin Marie and if you aren't too confused, here's the chart:-)

Sylvia

oh, thank you , thank you, thank you!! This will certainly keep me busy for a long time!! Marie and I are going to try to get together Saturday and go out visiting, and go to the various cemeteries. It was so good to get to talk to you. Hopefully Susie and I will get to talk one day. Marie is taking all of my stuff to work so she can run off copies and mail to you both. When we all re-group we need to call and talk, or find some other way to get together.

Love to you all,
Cathy

A. If your school/college of nursing is still open, then transcripts must come from the school

Q. My nursing school is closed. How can I get my transcripts?

A. Contact the State Board of Nursing in that state. Someone was appointed receivership of the school's records.

Q. My nursing program was in the Army.

A. Ask for a "Final Grade Report" not a transcript, from Fort Sam Houston, TX.

Q. I received my medic training in the Air Force.

A. The Army Resident Practical Nurse Course 300-M6 (previously 91C) program is the only military nursing program that meets Alabama's educational requirements.

Q. What address do I mail my application to?

A. Our correct mailing address is on the application – P. O. Box 303900, Montgomery, AL 36130-3900.

Q. I received my medic/corpsman training in the military service. Is this acceptable for Alabama?

A. The only military nursing program recognized as meeting our educational requirements is the Army Resident Practical Nurse Course, 300-M6 (previously 91C).

Q. Whose name goes on the check/money order sent for payment of the fees?

A. Make checks/money orders payable to Alabama Board of Nursing.

Q. How can I apply for a temporary permit?

A. You must submit your application and fee for permanent license. You may request a temporary by following instructions on the application and paying the required fee. If submitted correctly, temporary permits can be issued within two weeks in most cases. Temporary permits are never extended. You do not have to have CEs to request a temporary permit.

Q. I'm a new graduate; this does not apply to me.

A. When you received your first nursing license, you lost the new grad status. You are now a licensed nurse endorsing into another state and must fulfill all endorsement requirements.

Q. I am enrolled in graduate school through an online program; do I need an Alabama License?

A. Yes.

Q. My original state of licensure is Alabama but I've been gone a few years.

A. Once you've had an Alabama license, you always have an Alabama license. If you did not keep it current, it is simply lapsed. The "Reinstatement of a Lapsed License" form is available where you can reinstate directly on our web site. Otherwise contact the Reinstatement Desk. YOU CANNOT ENDORSE ON A LAPSED LICENSE.

Q. My original state of licensure is a member of the Compact States.

A. Alabama is not a member of the Compact States. It is mandatory to obtain an Alabama license in order to work in Alabama.

Q. How do I get my CE's?

A. You may search for CE providers in your area on our web site at <http://www.abn.state.al.us/ce/ce-search.asp>. Also there are upcoming opportunities listed at <http://www.abn.state.al.us/news/CE->

Q. How do I get my CEs to you?

A. You can fax the CEs if the background is basically white. Fax to (334) 242-4360. If you fax the CEs, DO NOT MAIL. Duplication of paperwork is unnecessary. If you can't FAX the certificates, simply mail copies to the address the application. Due to volume of work, allow two weeks for processing.

Q. The state I'm endorsing from does not require CEs.

A. If you are endorsing from a state that does not require CEs, then contact your former employer and request a print out of your Inservice/Educational Attendance Record. This must be on employer's letterhead. If the Inservice Record is printed on a plain sheet of paper, it will be rejected. Otherwise, you may acquire a temporary permit and work for ninety (90) days while earning your CE. At the end of the 90 days the permit expires and you must quit working as a nurse if you have not completed the requirements for licensure and been issued a license.

Q. I started the Endorsement process but I've had a change of plans.

A. Your application and fees will remain active for one year. You may complete the endorsement process at any time during this one year. Fees are not refundable.

Q. I will be moving very soon; will my license, or other correspondence, be forwarded to me?

A. Most of our mail is not forwarded due to the nature of the contents. Make sure we have your current mailing address.

Q. My State Board says my verification must come from NURSIS; what do I do?

A. The NURSIS License Verification Form is available on our web site on the Application page as well as a list of all states that use NURSIS for verification. Simply follow their instructions. You may discard the license verification page in our endorsement packet. When we receive your application, we will get your verification from NURSIS. It is not necessary to call us.

Q. Once you have received everything, how long does it take to get a license?

A. We issue license after you have satisfactorily fulfilled all legal requirements. We process on a first-in-first-out basis. The license is mailed directly to you from the company that produces the cards for us and it takes 10-14 days to receive the card after issuance of the license. An employer may verify the issuance of your license by calling our verification line at (334) 242-0767 (they must have your SSN).

CHANGES REGARDING PERSONAL CHECKS

Effective December 24, 2002, the following changes will be made regarding personal checks:

- ☐ Personal checks are not an acceptable method of payment of fines. Fines are payable only by certified check, cashier's check, business check, or money order.
- ☐ Counter checks are not an acceptable method of payment. Personal checks shall be imprinted with the name, address, and account number of the applicant or licensee.
- ☐ Personal checks by third parties (spouse, friend, parents, etc.) are not acceptable. Again, the name of the applicant or licensee must be on imprinted on the check. Business checks are acceptable.
- ☐ Personal checks on out-of-state banks are not acceptable.
- ☐ License verification fees are not payable by personal check.

Applicants or licensees who have checks returned due to insufficient funds may be prohibited from paying any future fees by personal check. As of January 1, 2003, the bad check charge will be $30.

Blazes Ruin 1100 Acres

Fire Crews Get Respite At Last After Brief Rain

More than 1100 acres of timber land and thousands of dollars in dwellings were destroyed by fires in Jackson county during October.

A report issued today by W. D. McNeel, state forester, revealed that 1100 acres of timber were burned by 55 forest blazes.

Total property damage, which is inestimable, ran into the tens of thousands of dollars when destruction by fires within city limits were added to the county toll.

McNeel's report estimated $5500 damage to dwellings and other buildings caused by forest fires in the county.

The fires kept forest service crews, city and private fire departments on the move almost incessantly.

In Pascagoula, fire chief Jimmy Hudson said his department answered 87 calls during the month.

The Moss Point volunteer company responded to 75 calls and members of the company answered dozens of others on which no general alarm was given.

Woods blazes were fed by parched grass and timber, dust-dry from a drought not broken for seven weeks. Rain fell Sunday night and steadily through Monday, giving weary fire fighters a respite.

McNeel indicated, however, that the rain was far from enough to end the fire danger.

"We have received less than one half the average rainfall this year," he said, "and we carried over a deficit from last year."

Clarence Byrd Is Found Dead By Creek Bank

The body of Clarence Byrd, 63, who had been missing from his home in Latimer for several hours, was found late Monday in a creek near his home with a gunshot wound of the chest and his shotgun by his side.

A jury at an inquest conducted by coroner J. I. Grimsley, returned a verdict of death from a gun shot accidentally self inflicted.

Byrd had left home Monday morning only to be gone a short time when he had not returned by evening his family became worried. He had reportedly been in ill health.

The body found by Walter McQueen and Harry Lamas, members of searching party.

DEATH ENDS ORDEAL

Paulette Spicer Taken By Death

Paulette Spicer, five-year-old victim of cancer of the throat, died Wednesday afternoon at her home, 1255 Belair, Pascagoula.

The little girl had been unable to swallow food for the past few weeks and lapsed into a coma early in the week.

Mrs. William S. Gardner, chairman of the county cancer society, said last week efforts were being made to have the child admitted to a hospital in either Laurel or Jackson.

Little Paulette came to the attention of the public last summer when doctors told her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Spicer, that she had a limited time to live.

Afraid that she would not live until her fifth birthday Aug. 18, a party was held ahead of time. News of the child's illness brought correspondence and gifts from all parts of the country.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday at Falls chapel by the Rev. Cyril Vlamynck, rector of St. John's Episcopal church. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery.

In addition to her parents she is survived by a brother, Charles, Jr.; a half brother, Ellis Lumpkin; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Spicer and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Mathieu, and a great grandmother, Mrs. Henry Savage, all of Pascagoula.

Vote Rules Loses By 2446 To 2120

Of 21 cases bound over to the grand jury, 10 indictments were returned, 10 no bills were reported and one case was continued by the grand jury this week.

The jury met at the opening of the November term of circuit court before judge L. C. Corban.

The case of John McNeal versus former sheriff J. Guy Krebs was set by Corban for Nov. 24.

McNeal seeks $300,000 for defamation of character arising from an alleged shooting incident during the 1952 political campaigns in which he was a candidate for sheriff.

The 10 indictments involve 13 persons, seven of whom are already in police custody. The remaining six will be arrested immediately.

Ralph Mims was indicted for the murder of Joseph Williams, whom he allegedly killed Aug. 10 aboard a fishing vessel while the latter slept.

Ethel Mae Frazier will be tried for manslaughter in connection with the fatal knifing of Robert Wood on Testament Street last month.

Willy Moore, Jr. was indicted for theft June 8 of a wrist watch valued at $40 and 60 cents in cash from Jerry Beauguez.

A true bill was returned against J. C. Marion charged with burglary and larceny for an Aug. 11 theft of two automobile tires, cigarettes and cigars from Gunter's Service Station.

Clifford Thompson faces trial for burglary on charges of having broken into the residence of Marshall Allen June 20.

Burglary and larceny is the charge against Leroy Jackson in connection with theft of a $29.50 radio from the home of Viola Clay July 20.

Jease Kennedy is charged with assault and battery with intent to murder following the attempted shooting of constable Carl Wilson at Moss Point Nov. 5.

The grand jury report recommended only minor repairs to cottages and facilities at the county home.

Programs Mark Education Week At Point Schools

American Education week was observed with special programs at the city schools of Moss Point this week.

Monday, an original one-act skit presented by members of the senior class set the theme for the week's programs—Better School. The play was directed by Mr. Carl Segerblom.

Members of the cast were Carolyn Goff, May Frances Edwards and Gloria Allen. Ronak Jones, Darrell Breland, Kerne Clark and Andrew Colville.

At assembly Monday morning, Cong. W. M. Colmer was guest speaker, using as his subject "American Heritage." He explained the functions of Congress.

Tuesday a program was presented by the music department with more than 100 students participating. Members of the band, the chorus, ensemble and piano students presented a varied program with several solo numbers under direction of James R. Bishop, band and chorus director, and Mrs. Ralph Farrell, piano instructor.

Beat Two Leads As County Rises To Second Class

Total property assessments in Jackson county for 1952 will top $20-million, highest in the county's history.

As a result the county moves up to a second class status and joins the handful of Mississippi counties in that category whose assessments top $20-million. In 1951 assessments in only 12 counties passed that figure.

Assessment figures were made public this week following equalization of assessor Norman Lyon's rolls by the county board of supervisors. The rolls have yet to be approved by the state tax commission, which will take the figures under consideration after the board has heard protests at sessions starting Aug. 4.

The rolls are now open for inspection in the office of N. C. Everett, chancery clerk. Everett warned that protests against assessments must be filed in writing not later than Aug. 1 in order to be considered.

Total county real and personal property assessment figures were set at $17,550,000 this year, an increase of approximately 32% over the $13,309,000 for 1951.

In 1951 public service assessments in the county totaled $2,712,909, which gave a total '51 figure of $16,021,950. The figure will probably be increased for 1952, which would give the county a total assessment of well over $20-million.

9-Year-Old Boy Burns To Death At Escatawpa

A game of make-believe brought death Friday to a nine-year-old visitor from Greenville.

Burned to death was Lonny Ramphrey, who was visiting his grandmother Mrs. Myrl Ware in Escatawpa.

Lonny was playing Thursday night with O'Gwin and Leon Clark, sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Clark of Escatawpa. The boys had built a fire in a play house behind the Clark home and were playing cooking.

One of the three threw gasoline on the fire to build it up. It exploded and the Ramphrey child was enveloped by flames.

The Clark boys turned a hose on Lonny and extinguished the blaze but he was so badly burned that he died early Friday morning in County Hospital. His playmates suffered only minor burns.

Lonny was son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ramphrey. He had spent two weeks with his grandmother.

The body was taken to Greenville Saturday by Fails. Other survivors are two sisters Sandra and Sherron, two brothers George and John and his paternal grandparents.

SECTION TWO PAGE SEVEN

JACKSON COUNTY...

Over the Back Fence

By Irene King

There's a cute little brown-haired girl at 1255 Belair street in Pascagoula playing with a lot of new toys she got for her fifth birthday.

Her birthday isn't until August but she doesn't know the party was early. You see, she may not be here in August.

She couldn't say thank you to the scores of people who called during the day with gifts but she beamed her happiness all over her expressive little face. She is unable to talk because of a tube in her neck. She has incurable cancer of the throat.

The little girl is Paulette Spicer daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Spicer.

In the front room of the small neat family home, the child's parents, grandmother Mrs. R. E. Mathieu, and aunt Mrs. J. C. McCain, tried bravely and successfully to behave normally as they watched Paulette, dressed in brief dotted pajamas playing with a favorite cousin.

Mr. Spicer has obtained a leave of absence from his job on a supply boat for an oil survey boat out of Morgan City. Paulette can't bear for her father and her mother to be out of her sight.

In a low voice so as not to be overheard, Mrs. Spicer told her child's story.

Paulette is a child who has never complained, never admitted feeling bad so her parents didn't know anything was wrong until they noticed a swelling in her neck about three and a half months ago.

Swollen glands, said the first physician. They later took her to a specialist in Mobile. A few weeks ago she almost choked to death and they rushed her to a Mobile hospital.

An emergency operation made it possible for her to breathe again but her throat was so badly affected by that time it was necessary to insert tubes with an opening in the hollow of her throat.

After 19 days in the hospital, Paulette's stricken parents were told the truth. There was nothing medical science could do. Just take her home and keep her happy, they advised.

So that is where Paulette is. Breathing through the tubes, playing, smiling and never complaining. Sometimes she cries and her parents know she is in pain; although when they ask her she just shakes her head.

On the wall of the room where she plays is a picture taken of her when she was queen of Toyland in a contest conducted by the American Legion auxiliary in May, 1950. The cup awarded her is displayed in the corner.

When the family realized the little girl might never celebrate her fifth birthday date, they decided on a party last Sunday and about 100 people called to have a slice of the 18-pound cake and a cold drink and to bring a present to the little honoree.

Most of all she had wanted a big doll for her birthday. At nine o'clock that night, though, she hadn't gotten one and had given up hope when suddenly there arrived a lovely big baby in organdy dress and cap from the Pascagoula telephone operators.

Her face shone and she had a great time hiding it to surprise her father, who was away at the time of its arrival.

She got some flowers, too, which she dearly loves. And boxes of candy, another favorite. Not that she eats much of it herself, her mother explained, but she loves to have it to pass to friends when they come.

Someone gave her $5 and part of that she spent for a toy cash register which she stuffs with play money.

There have been several calls and letters from widespread points since news of her condition has been spread through press and radio.

Two men, one from Paris, Tenn.

and the other from Natchez, have promised her dolls. Another man from Jackson wants to buy her a doll or something else she specially wants.

Her mother thinks perhaps she would like an overstuffed rocking chair because she loves to rock her baby brother. She has a rocking chair now but the back is high and hits the back of her head.

Unfortunately some of the calls intended for Mr. and Mrs. Spicer have gone to others in the telephone book by the same name, Mrs. Spicer explained, because they have no phone.

Anyone wanting to call, though, can reach the family through Mrs. Mathieu at 530-J or Mrs. McCain at 510-M.

"We're trying to do the best we can, Mrs. Spicer said. "We really need another fan because the nurses and doctors cautioned us not to let her get hot and the one fan we have has been running night and day since we came home from the hospital.

"Money is mighty scarce, of course, and we haven't been able to pay the nurses who were so wonderful to her in the hospital nor any of the other bills. It worries me about the nurses. They work for a living and I know they need the money."

Paulette enjoys getting out in the car for a ride, too, but the family car doesn't run.

"But I'm working on it and I hope I can get it to run in a day or so," her father said.

In the meantime they borrow the Mathieu or the McCain automobile.

But very best of all, Paulette loves to get mail. Every morning she meets the mail man. Her mother showed her on the clock what time to expect the mail man and she was so anxious for his arrival that she couldn't wait and moved the hands ahead in a vain but hopeful effort to hasten his coming!

The morning we were there, Paulette saw him coming. She walked quickly to the door and down the path. But she saw nothing for her. Nothing at all. We'd be willing to wager it doesn't happen again.

A Jackson man, Thursday authorized the Chronicle-Advertiser to buy a fan and a rocking chair for Paulette and send him the bill.

He prefers to remain anonymous.

MCCAIN DAYS

Robert Spicer displays ledger

1920-1926

Ledger tells of the 'good old days'

By DON BROADUS
Mississippi Press Staff

Fishermen who feel the prices they are paid for their catches are too low might rethink their position if they examined an old ledger which recently surfaced in Pascagoula.

The ledger was kept by Sea Coast Fisheries, which was located on the site of today's menhaden industry.

The ledger, which runs from 1920 through 1926, was found by Bill Thomas when he tore down an old house on Jackson Avenue in Pascagoula. It eventually made its way into the hands of Robert Spicer, 72, of Orange Grove. Spicer's father, Joe Spicer, is listed several times in the ledger.

The ledger is full of such entries as $1.50 to have two horses shod, $1.56 for a telephone bill and $2.20 for a water bill.

One entry shows that $25 was paid to Joe Spicer and L.G. Bechman for building five skiffs, less $2 for an advance loan to Spicer.

According to other entries, $3 a day was the going price for skilled labor, mullet sold for three cents a pounds, flounder for five cents and redfish went as high as eight cents.

Throughout the period, the business carried a cash balance of from $700 to $500 a month and made regular deposits in the Merchants and Marine Bank.

It also paid $10 a month rent to Mrs. I.V. Dupont.

According to the ledger, Capt. B.H. Charlton docked the schooner Maggie Salva at the business on Oct. 14, 1926, and sold its load of fish for $197.07, then paid out $160.34 for groceries, ice, wood and fuel for her next trip.

Robert Spicer said B.H. Charlton was known as "Bennie" and the Maggie Salva was at first a sailing vessel which was later equipped with an engine.

The last owner of the boat, according to Spicer, the site of Flechas Boatyard, he said. The Maggie Salva made regular sales at the company as did other boats such as X Ray whose master was Bill Grant. The company also sold fish to Empire Fish Company.

Most purchases appear to have been from small fishermen who had $5 to $10 in fish for sale.

According to the ledger, fish were sold to the company by hundreds of Jackson Countians including James Grimsley, Eddie Ladner, Pat Thompson, "Dago Pete," C.H. Delmas, J.H. Pelham, Tom Beckham, Fred Spradlin, Gabe Bosarge, Irby Bosarge, Vincent Perez, John Savage, William Murray, John Danley, W.F. Stephens and even Rita Howard who was paid $8.67 for barrel of mullet.

But things weren't all that bad, according to Spicer.

"I could make $3 oystering," he said. "I could buy a pair of shoes, pants and a shirt and have 10

The DEMOCRAT-STAR don't print all the local happenings in and around Scranton. Much that is left out would be good Sunday reading.

The oyster and fish industry of Pascagoula bay and adjacent fishing grounds has always been a source of revenue to many engaged therein.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Nelson and daughter, Misses Nelsena and Lena, spent Sunday at Ocean Springs, guests of Capt. N. Hanson.

Miss Lillian Alley is at home this week recuperating from a severe attack of measles contracted at school in Mobile.

The Girlet-Holmes Lumber Co.'s mill the Blanchard ship-yard site is doing very active business, sawing 35,000 feet of lumber a day.

Mrs. Eugene Joanen and pretty little daughter Adriene, of New Orleans, is on a visit to their relatives here, Mrs. E. Cox and Mrs. J. A. Kathman.

Miss Antonia Barriere, of New Orleans, attended the marriage of her relative, Miss Fannie Donovan to Mr. R. Loughridge on Monday last.

The dredges continue to do steady and efficient work in dredging the river channel. The excavation of sand is rapidly filling the low places along the river bank.

W. Wilkes, the genial proprietor of the Biloxi Herald, and his son Walter were in town Friday and gave the DEMOCRAT-STAR office a welcome.

Rev. H. W. Van Hook will preach in the Methodist church Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. He will also preach at Pascagoula in the union church at 4 p. m.

The schooner Tres Hermanos arrived today from Campeche, Mexico, and landed a cargo of lumber at the Fairport Lumber Co.'s mill for a retail.

Joe Spicer and family have left Bayou La Boute and taken up their abode in Biloxi. The oyster and fish business of relief when Joe departs.

People who know they owe for the DEMOCRAT-STAR ought not to wait for the collector. Send in the bill, or just step in the office and pay down the cash.

ditional case of Mrs. Arden-Irving-Oakwood will come up for trial. It will doubtless be rich, rare and racy—in other words, "hot-stuff."

H. P. Weiss ("Clip"), the irrepressible representative of the New Orleans Picayune, was here Monday on business for his paper, and showed his handsome phiz in the DEMOCRAT-STAR office. He says he is opposed to trusts of all kinds, and he never trusts anybody.

Progress on the L. N. Dantzler Lumber Co.'s new log railway in course of construction from Bluff Creek to Howison, Miss., a distance of 35 miles, is well advanced in the grading. Rails will reach Bluff Creek to be laid as fast as the road bed is built. The road will run through and tap a fine timber region.

Quite a large crowd of men and boys, and two ladies were present in the court room Thursday of last week to hear the habeas corpus case of Dr. Charley Oakwood, alias Wood. Of course the men feasted their eyes on the remarkable husband-catcher, Mrs. Arden-Irving-Oakwood, etc., etc. No flower were presented this wonderful female.

We understand that for sometime back the stores, bar-rooms, pool-rooms and other business houses are kept open after 12 o'clock Saturday nights, and even as late as 2 o'clock Sunday morning. This is merely to remind the proprietors that they are violating the Sunday law, and unless they desist they may get themselves into trouble. A word to the wise is sufficient.

We are glad to see that the L. & N. management is paying some attention to Hetty Green Park by putting out live oak trees and boxing them to prevent stock from destroying them. It is to be hoped that in the near future magnificent flower beds will blossom and a large fountain grace the Park and otherwise improved.

Rev. Wm. Hart (Episcopal), of Bay St. Louis, held services in the Methodist church last Sunday at 3 o'clock. The membership of this denomination are still struggling to erect a church edifice. Mr. Hart informs us that there is about $500 in hand now, but owing to the high price of building material the erection of a house of worship will not be undertaken yet awhile. The lot on which the building is to be erected is on the corner of Live Oak and Pine streets.

Come now that time again. Thursday, the next day, and the next, some of us will be a bit forgetful and try to hang on to the old calendar.

An alert reader will catch our error and make us write the check over.

It's time to change the 8 to a 9.

It may be confusing to the fellow who can look both ways at once—ahead and behind.

Even worse, it's a sad day for the fellow who doesn't care about either direction.

Here at home we've come a long way. Not just while the 8 was up there but while the 9 was down there.

Pascagoula Youths, Man From Louisiana Die In Plunge Of Car

Three young men were drowned in an after-Christmas auto accident Friday at Moss Point.

They were Charles Edward Spicer, 21, his younger brother Johnny Franklin Spicer, 18, both of Pascagoula, and Harold Rachal, 23, Big Bend, La.

The accident occurred some time Friday night when the car in which the three were riding apparently skidded on wet paving and plunged into the canal paralleling Highway 63 north of the Escatawpa bridge, investigating officers said.

Rachal and Charles Spicer were Navy men stationed at the Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Fla. They were to have returned to their posts Saturday morning from Christmas leave.

The Spicer brothers were sons of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Spicer, 112 John Street.

The highway canal was swollen by an extremely high tide when the car plunged into it during Friday night's rain and it was

• Registration will be at Pascagoula High School, where classes also will be conducted, at 7 p.m., Morgan said. First classes will start next Thursday.

The following courses will be offered, Morgan said.

College algebra, analytical geometry, differential calculus, higher applied mathematics, business administration and law, basic English composition, social studies, school administration and general psychology.

Several groups of classes will be conducted twice weekly on Mondays and Thursday from 7 to 10:30 p.m.

In addition to the college faculty, instructors will be drawn from Keesler AFB and other sources. All will be in the field, holding either a doctorate or master's degree, Morgan said.

Students will receive four quarter-hour credits for each course, he added. Tuition will be $24 for each course plus $1 room charge.

If interest in the extension courses is sufficient, it is hoped that laboratory equipment can eventually be installed for teaching of general chemistry and physics, Morgan said.

Decision to conduct the extension courses here came after a survey of Ingalls and Navy personnel brought such encouraging results that the survey was extended to other industries in the area with the same result, ac-

One person was injured and considerable damage done in two Highway 90 accidents during the weekend.

Treated at County Hospital for bruises and shock was Mrs. Emily Deskins, Orangeburg, S. C., who was injured when her car overturned several times after a tire blowout at 7:30 a.m. Sunday one mile east of Orange Grove.

She was not believed seriously hurt, said investigating state highway patrolmen L. C. Newell and Frank Ely.

The second accident, which occurred at 10 a.m. Saturday two and a half miles east of Pascagoula, involved three cars.
Newell said.

Joseph H. Creel, 20, Biloxi, was waiting to make a left turn when his car was struck from the rear
by another vehicle.

The impact drove Creel's car into the opposite traffic lane
where it hit a third automobile operated by R. W. McGants, New Orleans.

No one was injured, Newell said, but property damage to the vehicles was estimated at $600.
No charges were filed, he said.

thought to be the only occupant at the time of the accident.

According to county highway patrolman Harold Jones, who had been summoned to the scene by the Moss Point officers, a search of the vehicle revealed papers belonging to Charles Spicer.

Officers then checked and found the brothers had not returned home Friday night and their parents were trying to locate them.

A search of the canal waters
was started by Jones, Snipes, Lynd and deputy sheriff Eddie Barnes, using grappling equipment from a boat owned and operated by Ollie Miller, Moss Point.

The bodies of the brothers were located a short time later side by side in deeper water about 20 yards from where the car was found.

Jones said that Rachal was apparently driving the vehicle, as his body was over the steering wheel. He was unfamiliar with the highway and probably skid-ded in making a curve where the vehicle left the road.

The back door of the car was open, Jones said, and investigat-

brothers managed to free themselves from the overturned vehicle but that in the darkness

Wonder how our old friend Southern Bell is going to explain the recent action of their parent company, American Telephone & Telegraph, while crying "poor mouth" and asking for increased rates?

AT&T, news dispatches tell us, offered shareholders the biggest Christmas melon in financial history by recommending a three-for-one stock split and 10% increase in annual dividends. The news sent AT&T stock skyrocketing $21 a share upward, breaking a 27-year record of the New York stock exchange.

Maybe part of this financial success lies in the practice of making Bell affiliates in many instances sell high-interest stock to AT&T to get new capital for expansion, instead of marketing lower-interest long term bonds. Or buying all equipment from Western Electric, another wholly-owned subsidiary, instead of on an open, competitive market.

Anyway, it looks like Bell's plea for higher rates and earnings is a little premature, at least, in the face of this financial melon-splitting by their parent company.

Another note on Mississippi's prohibition laws:

The federal internal revenue services says 998 retail liquor dealers purchased $50 permit stamps during 1958, and 33 wholesalers paid the $200 federal tax.

That adds up to an average of 12 retail liquor establishments for each of our 82 counties — pretty fair average for a state with "bone dry" prohibition laws. — EK.

they're not all of an explosive nature.

Of course, we want to be first. They tell us the man has already been born who will walk among the craters of the moon. We want him to be an American. Maybe he'll be that tough little boy that broke your window yesterday and ran off, wiping his nose on his sleeve.

What will he discover? Who will he find? Who knows today?

But let's hope he's an American. Maybe he'll shake hands warmly with a moon man. Maybe he'll take along the Book that calls all men equal and say, "How about it, buddy? Let's see if we can't get together and make this a better universe in which to live."

Let's hope it won't be the kind who say, "Hey, come here Bub, and we'll figure out a way to blow hell out of our adversaries."

The guy may be walking around up there sooner than we think. It could even be this year. The 9 is brand-new. It's got 365 full days of future and there's not a one of us that can alter that fact.

We can help though. We can be kind to each other. Can you think of a better place to start?

AWARD WINNERS — Doris Spicer of Pascagoula (right) and Larry Eggers of Ocean Springs, won first and second place respectively, in a poetry contest "In Praise of Trees."

In praise of trees

Doris Spicer of Pascagoula won the Arbor Day 1991 "In Praise of Trees" poetry contest co-sponsored by Writers Unlimited and the Keep America Beautiful Committee.

Miss Spicer, who is employed by the city of Pascagoula to assist Virginia Eselin, director of the Pascagoula Senior Citizen Center, was awarded a certificate and a $25 cash award for "As the tall tree lingers/ So shall its branches live on/ Growth is its foundations/ Beauty in itself," an untitled quatrain.

The poem is engraved on a plaque which will be exhibited first in the Senior Citizens Center, then in the library, and finally in a city office. Miss Spicer will present the plaque to the city in April.

Larry Eggers of Ocean Springs qualified for second place through his employment in Pascagoula as a counselor at the State of Mississippi Office of Vocational Rehabilitation. Eggers noted that he wrote poetry in his teens, but did not write again until eight months ago. Since then, he has had one poem published and five accepted for publication.

The awards were presented by Beverly Corben, president of Writers Unlimited, at the Arbor Day 1991 Celebration, Feb. 8 in I.G. Levy Park. Capt. David A. Britt, president of the Mississippi Poetry Society statewide, and Nina T. Bratt of Mensa, served as judges.

Country music fan mourns passing of Jimmie Davis

■ Country singer, former governor wrote 'You Are My Sunshine'

MOSS POINT — The death of country singer and former Louisiana governor Jimmie Davis did not go unnoticed by Eutaska "Tac" Tew of Moss Point.

Tew, a former educator, has spent most of her life collecting autographs and memorabilia of country singing legends. She said it saddened her when Davis' Nov. 5 death seemed to go unnoticed locally. She attended his funeral service described as a "A Celebration of Life."

Davis served two terms as governor, 1944-48 and 1960-64.

Aside from his political life, Davis was an author, businessman, composer and entertainer.

"He was an actor, also. He was the lead man in his own life story. It was called 'Louisiana,'" Tew said.

"Jimmie Davis was one of the pioneers in country music. Even as governor of Louisiana, he never lost his enthusiasm for music and, of course, wrote the ever famous 'You Are My Sunshine,'" said Hal Comello, host of Spotlight on Jackson County and owner of The Comello Agency.

"You Are My Sunshine" has been recorded by more than 350 artists and translated into 30 foreign languages

"This all started when a friend of mine gave me a guitar and I decided I was never going to learn how to play it," Tew explained. "I knew a lot of people connected with Hank Williams Sr., so I decided to get them all to autograph it — every living person who was connected with him."

"So far, I've gotten everybody except Hank Jr., and Hank III. It's been arranged for me to get those. All I've got to do is see them."

A friend told her the autographed guitar would really be valuable and an asset to the Hank Williams Museum in Georgiana, Ala., if Gov. Jimmie Davis would sign it.

This was about March 6. "He

The Storm Prediction Center in Norman, Okla., issued a tornado watch for Western Florida, South Alabama, Southern Mississippi, Southeast Louisiana and adjacent coastal waters from 9 a.m.-2 p.m.

A possible tornado was reported five miles northwest of Lyman. Residents reported limbs blown down along Miss. 53.

In Jackson County there were reports of downed tree limbs and flooding in some area roads.

just picked up the phone and called Mrs. Davis, "Mrs. Anna," as I call her.

"She said 'oh yeah, honey, just come right over, he'll be glad to sign it.'"

Tew said when they arrived two days later on March 8, Davis' condition had worsened.

However, Mrs. Davis asked if she could sign the guitar and she did.

"So she signed and I got pictures of her signing it. That's how I got connected with an earlier attempted bank robbery in Gulfport.

Anyone with information about the robbery should contact Investigator Kevin Jackson with the Harrison County Sheriff's Department at (228) 896-0656.

Drainage ditches were overflowing in some areas, causing flooding of some property.

Severe weather prevented a Coast Guard vessel out of Pascagoula from reaching an injured Bayou LaBatre fisherman aboard the fishing boat Daylight in the Mississippi Sound. Coast Guard received a call about the emergency in about 7 a.m. Friday.

The fisherman had a broken arm. He was later airlifted to Singing River Hospital by a helicopter from The Aviation Training Center in Mobile.

how I met her. A few days later, I got a nice letter from her thanking me from coming," Tew said.

That was Tew's first visit to the Davis home. She had been invited to his 85th birthday, but couldn't attend because she was in Nashville. She wasn't able to see him because he was too sick.

"They said he was the greatest. They said he helped everybody get started in business, if he could. I just think he contributed so much to country music and to life," she said.

at the properties are a health hazard.

"I'm mostly concerned about the water," she said. "I want some questions answered."

The Environmental Protection Agency alleges that Lucedale developer Robert Lucas included 266 acres of wetlands while selling parcels of a 2,600 acre development called Big Hill Acres. The development is just north of the Sandhill Crane National Wildlife Refuge.

The EPA letter, dated Nov. 3, advised residents that Lucas was being investigated and that he had been ordered to stop selling land parcels without the permission of the EPA. The letter warned property owners to not use fill material on their land without the checking first to see if a clean water act permit is required.

"If you have purchased property from Mr. Lucas please be aware that many of the lots he sold contain wetlands regulated by the federal government," the letter stated.

James Miguez said he purchased his 2.7 acres about three years ago. Now that he has learned that his property may be wetlands, he worries whether his septic system will continue to work and whether he will be allowed to continue clearing his land to build a home.

"I wasn't informed about this when I bought the property," he said. "As soon as I heard about it, I stopped taking down trees. Now slipped her moorings and drifted away. Bud has looked everywhere. He told the Coast Guard and they searched every inch of the shoreline, but found no trace of her."

The end of the story occurred three years later.

Elizabeth went to New Orleans for a minor operation. While she was recovering, the social worker came home from Virginia on her vacation and the Baton Rouge housewife came downriver to visit Jane.

Thus, they were together again for the first time since the night of their vow nine years before. A sunny Saturday found them motoring to Pascagoula.

"It won't be the same without Jimmie," Elizabeth said. "I don't know if we can stand it."

When they reached the house, Jane's mother stood in the doorway. Elizabeth jumped from the car and ran toward her, expecting the usual affectionate embrace. She stopped, puzzled and hurt at seeing no gesture of welcome.

The older woman was deathly pale. Her arms hung limp and she shook with emotion.

"The Sparrow has come back," she said. "She drifted in only a few minutes ago, all covered with mud. She's down there now, on the shore."

They looked — and saw the top of a little mast bobbing up and down.

Suddenly Bud, who had quietly come from the house, was beside them — an older Bud whose eyes seemed to burn with grief as he spoke; "Jimmie said that when the time came, the Sparrow would see that we would all be together again, and now she's done it. He's down there!"

"Don't say it!" Jane said sharply — and they were all silent in the shock of their inescapable surmise.

Spicer said he soon found a one-by-six plank, about six feet long.

"It made a fine rudder and I sailed her to Pascagoula. We got in about daylight."

Spicer said he had no idea the boat he borrowed belong to Pie Mopre, in front of whose home he tied it up.

"I stopped there because I lived north of him," he said.

Spicer said Moore and the Ocean Springs man who had purchased the vessel got into an ownership dispute which was resolved in favor of Moore.

"Arthur Southern built that boat and he identified it by a knothole in the bow that he had plugged and painted over," Spicer said.

Moore said, even though proof showed he owned the boat, he did not get it back.

"The man from Ocean Springs came over with a bunch of kids," Moore said. "They were all crying because they had lost the Sparrow. I knew if they loved her as much as I did, I couldn't take it away from them."

PTD Director lives up to his own motto

By NICOLE WILSON

"Never give up," Mark Spicer says is the motto that fits his life best. And it is definitely one that he and his family have had to live by.

Mark, a resident of Ocean Springs, was born and raised in a small village set in the foothills of the Adirondack Mountains near Canton, N.Y. Growing up, he played baseball and enjoyed cross country skiing in the mountains as well as fishing and hunting. He was also on the wrestling team for Clifton-Fine High School and was graduated from there in 1986.

As the oldest of four children, Mark had to learn responsibility at a young age. When he was 12, his parents divorced. To help his mother support him and his three siblings, Mark began working at age 13 doing odd jobs after school and working in the kitchen at a restaurant on weekends.

At 14, tragedy struck Mark's family when an uncle that he admired and loved, was killed by a drunk driver. That event motivated Mark to pursue a career in law enforcement and focus on alcohol and illegal drug abuse.

Following in his uncle's footsteps, Mark joined the U.S. Air Force out of high school. After a few tours in the United States and one at the Royal Air Force Upper Heyford Base near Oxford, England, Mark eventually ended up at Keesler AFB, where he retired after 10 years of service.

His first civilian job was as a DARE Officer with the Ocean Springs Police Department. Working with children and educating them on the dangers of drugs and alcohol were very rewarding to Mark. "Walking through the school and hearing the kids yell, 'Hi, Officer Spicer!,' you know you have made a positive impression on them," he says.

In July 2004, Mark was hired by District Attorney Tony Lawrence as the Director of Pre-Trial Diversion (PTD), a program that speeds up the court trial docket, saves incarceration expenses, and requires participants to pay a fee that covers the program's administrative costs.

Based on the number of accomplishments he has made in such a short time, Tony and Chief Investigator Scott McIlrath nominated Mark for employee of the month honors. Despite a three-month vacancy at the secretarial support position, Mark has expanded the program to include clients in George and Greene Counties, increased the active participation from 75 to more than 95 percent, and brought new services to the program to help prevent participants from becoming repeat offenders.

"In addition to his PTD duties, Mark's experience in the DARE Program has been invaluable to the DA's mission to help stop crime before it starts by educating children," says Scott.

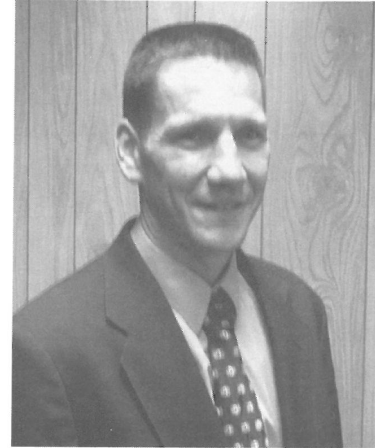

Tony said, "Mark has been instrumental in assisting my office in developing my SAFE KIDS, SAFE STREETS program where we go into area schools to educate children with real life stories on the dangers of drug use and drinking and driving."

Mark has been married to his wife Sheri (Evans) for 14 years and they have two daughters, Alexis, 9 and Gabrielle, 7. Sheri, originally from New York, was also a "military brat." The two met while he was stationed at Keesler.

Both girls attend Oak Park Elementary and are involved in dance. He says Alexis is more intelligent than he is and enjoys playing teacher to her sister. "Alexis is the more adventurous and athletic of the two," he says, "she also likes drama and acting though during a recent chance to do an interview on WLOX she got a little intimidated and couldn't talk."

Gabrielle is known throughout the community for her amazing story of survival. Just before her third birthday, she was diagnosed with t-cell lymphoblast lymphoma, a cancer of the lymph nodes. At one point Gabrielle actually died in Mark's arms before she was revived, but through the seizures, tests, emotional stress and uncertainty he and his family never gave up. Gabrielle is now cancer free and doing great.

Mark Spicer

Once recipients of services provided by the American Cancer Society and Ronald McDonald House, Mark and his wife recognize the importance of investing in the community and organizations that help people in need. They are actively involved in both organizations and participate with their children in events such as the Relay for Life. Mark is also a member of the Fellowship Church, Ocean Springs Elks Club and volunteers with the Ocean Springs School District.

With what little free time he has, Mark finds at least one hour a day to read, usually a Louis L'Amour book. Though he claims to be a "master of none," when it comes to hands-on skills such as carpentry and mechanics, he is currently adding onto his own house and his and Scott's handiwork is evident at the Bad Check Unit offices.

Still pursuing his law enforcement career, Mark works part-time as a security officer and plans to return to school in the fall to complete his degree in the field. Eventually he would like to get into politics and possibly run for mayor. Most importantly though, Mark just wants to give his wife and children more than he had growing up.

As employee of the month, Mark will be honored by the Jackson County Board of Supervisors and presented a gift certificate for lunch for two at Chinese Express 2 in Ocean Springs.

The 'Sparrow' eerily returns to fulfil vow ma

EDITOR'S NOTE: (The following article appeared in Reader's Digest in December 1942, entitled "Bond of Reunion" and appeared in The Mississippi Press on July 24, 1983)

By CARL CRAMER

Special to the Press

This story was told to me by my wife, one of the six young people who made the vow that night on the shore of Pascagoula. The other four surviving members of the group all corroborated the details of this extraordinary experience.

The four girls, Ann Farnsworth (referred to as Jane in the story), Elizabeth Black (Elizabeth in the story), Worth Dinwiddie (the social worker), and Fannie Woodfield (the housewife) had been childhood neighbors and very close friends.

Two of them would graduate from college in New Orleans in the spring and after that there would be no more sun-drenched vacations at the rambling seaside house of Jane's mother.

The two boys were Bid (H.W. "Pie" Moore) and Jimmie (C.P. Billy Moore), Jane's brothers. They had grown up in Pascagoula and helped their widowed mother with her pecan orchards.

It was a starlit night at the end of summer. As the driftwood fire lighted the weathered pillars of the house behind them and the shoreline ahead where dark ripples winked on the white sand, the six young companions who had parted in many previous Septembers with the knowledge, that in the following June, they would be together again beside Mississippi Gulf waters. They vowed that they would come back again to Pascagoula.

"The vow won't mean anything," said Jimmie, the youngest of the party. "unless each one of us leaves in this spot something he likes."

"What do you like most of all?" Bud asked. "Why the Sparrow," Jimmie said. They all looked toward the black outline of the catboat as it rocked at her mooring just offshore.

"The Sparrow is just like one of us," Elizabeth said thoughtfully. "We've sailed miles around here. She's taken us swimming every since we were little. We all love her as much — well almost as much — as Jimmie does."

"Then why not let it be the boat that we leave here?" Jimmie said. "If we do that, each one of us will be leaving in Pascagoula the one thing that he loves the most, and she'll make sure we come back — all of us — when the time comes."

The five who still live say that their vow was all but forgotten in the six years that followed. They were so scattered that a reunion had become impracticable. Elizabeth became my wife and came to live with me in New York.

Of the three girls, one was a social worker in Virginia, one was a housewife in Baton Rouge, and Jane was teaching in a New Orleans school.

Then a letter brought them great sorrow. "Jimmie has been murdered," his mother wrote. "He took a load of pecans to New Orleans and left the truck there for repairs. On his way to the railroad station he was hit over the head and robbed by someone who must have seen him get the money for the pecans. He died, still unconscious, in Charity Hospital."

On reading the letter, the girls were so overcome with grief that the postscript made little impression on their minds at the time, though they all remembered it later — "The Sparrow has gone. On the day Jimmie died, she

Orange Grove man confesses to returning Sparrow

By DON BROADUS

Mississippi Press Staff

"I'm the ghost," says Robert Spicer, a spry 72-year-old Orange Grove man. "I'm the one who left that boat (the Sparrow) there."

In what some might call a confession, Spicer offered the solution to a Pascagoula mystery of more than a half century.

The mystery involved vows made by six young people and the Sparrow, a small sailing vessel which disappeared on the night one of the young people died and mysteriously reappeared when the five remaining young people returned years later in Pascagoula for a reunion.

The story was originally told in writing in the December 1942 Reader's Digest and reprinted in The Mississippi Press three years ago.

"After the story was in the paper, I told Pie Moore (one of the six people in the story) I had returned the boat," Spicer said. "I thought he would write the newspaper. He's a great one for writing the paper."

Moore, 78, and now a resident of the County

Home at Hurley, confirmed that Spicer told him of returning the boat.

Spicer, who grew up on Mantou Street in Pascagoula, said he believes the year was 1930 when he and his younger sister, Verna Mae, caught a ride to Biloxi to see a movie.

"It was a lot longer picture show than I expected," Spicer said. "By the time it was over, Verna Mae was asleep and it was dark."

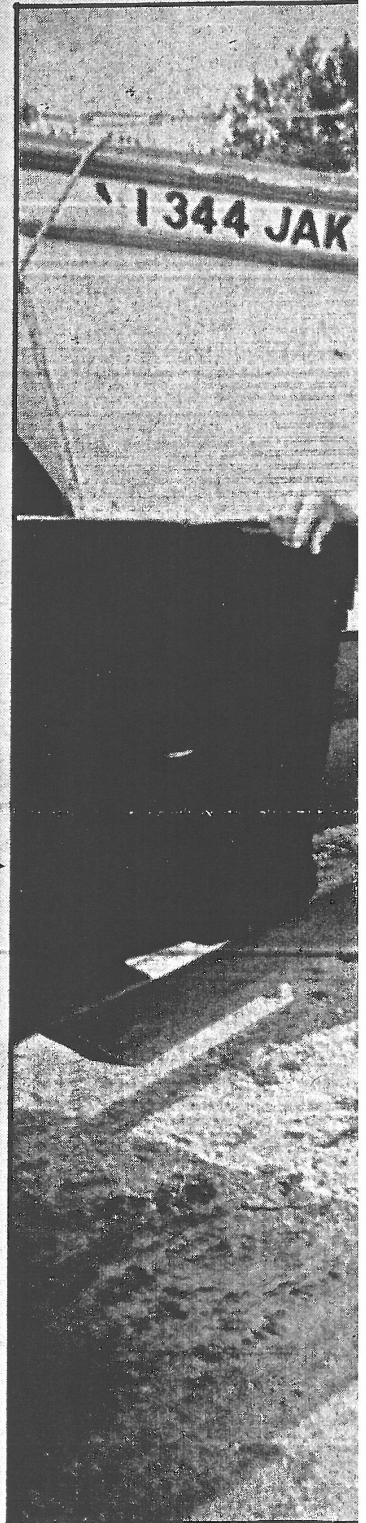

Spicer, carrying his sister, started walking home.

"When I got across the Biloxi bridge, I realized I couldn't make it," he said. "I went down to the beach to look for a boat."

What proved to be the Sparrow was moored offshore.

"I carried my sister out to it, laid her in the boat and went back to shore to look for a rudder," he said. The rudder has been removed probably to prevent someone from "borrowing the boat."
